

Keynote Speaker • Facilitator • Author
ANGIE CALLEN, PCC

Former Engineer. Loves People.

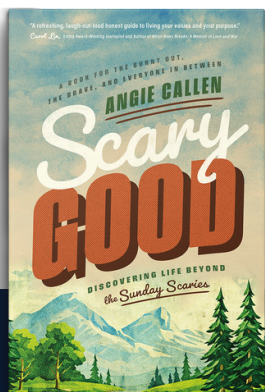

Angie Callen is a former engineer who loves people — a rare combo that's shaped how she approaches the world. She's an executive coach, speaker, and author known for blending strategy, humor, and humanity in a way that resonates.

Founder of The Modern Coach and Career Benders, and author of Scary Good: Discovering Life Beyond the Sunday Scaries (#1 Amazon new release, January 2026), her insights have been featured in Forbes, USA Today, and in rooms around the world. When she's not on stage, she's mountain biking with her dog, Steve, somewhere near home in the Colorado Rockies and living life on purpose — one mountain adventure at a time.

SPEAKING TOPICS

- Work Has Changed. Humans Haven't. | Putting people first in an AI-driven world
- Design Over Default | Redefining success at work and in life — on your own terms
- The Inflection Point | How high performers navigate and lead through change
- True to You | Advancing your career as a woman in a male-dominated field
- The New 4Ps of Marketing | Your brand's unfair advantage in the age of AI

Want to go deeper?
Pick up her book.

STYLES + FORMATS

Angie speaks fluent human and fluent tech — and knows exactly which room she's in.

Keynotes • Workshop Facilitation • Leadership Team Offsites • Panel Moderation • Retreats

"An exceptional communicator who knows how to command a room."

— Jason Raitz, Founder, Speak with People

"Authentic, approachable, and puts people at ease." — Renee Marchak, Leader in HR & Organizational Development | Ex-eBay

hello@angiecallen.com • angiecallen.com • 970-924-0058